Power of attorney in my case (party representation): With code 31 the person having power of attorney is the party's representative. This means that the person having power of attorney assumes all the rights of the party in question and that all correspondence is with the person having power of attorney and not with you. In this case the person having power of attorney gets all your rights, comprising: Access to the documents of the case, the right to be heard as a party to the case, the right to make statements, the right to ask for postponement of the case, the right to get a copy of the decision letter, the right to complain of the decision, the right to ask for resumption of the case, and the right to apply for payment of the compensation as a lump sum (capitalisation). (Power of attorney code 31)*

Limited consent in my case: With code 21 the person having power of attorney will in future receive a copy of selected letters sent by Labour Market Insurance (Arbejdsmarkedets Erhvervssikring), together with a copy of the letter hearing the parties, and with documents enclosed that the person having power of attorney has not received before. The person having power of attorney furthermore gets the right of access to the documents of the case, the right to make a complaint or withdraw a complaint of decisions, and to ask for resumption of the case. The time limit for making complaints is determined individually for each recipient of the decision letter. This means that you and the person having power of attorney may have different time limits for complaints, depending on the way you have chosen with regard to receiving mail from us. (Power of attorney code 21)*

I, the above, hereby consent to give access to the documents of the case*

Guide to and information on power of attorney and the option of withdrawing the power of attorney:

In cases where you do not have the strength or resources to conduct your own case, it may be a good idea to grant power of attorney to a person you trust.

You need to be aware, however, that if you choose to grant a power of attorney (code 31), all correspondence regarding your case will be sent to the person having power of attorney. If, however, you choose to grant limited consent (code 21), both you and the person having power of attorney will get the same letters, and therefore it is possible for you to follow the processing of the case yourself.

In our cases the file number is the same as a personal identification (CPR) number, corresponding to the original recipient of compensation and/or National Award. Therefore, if your case pertains to a widow's/widower's compensation, it is the personal ID ("CPR") number of your deceased spouse that you need to put down as file number.

If you yourself choose to write a power of attorney, there are certain things you need to be aware of, for instance whether you grant a general power of attorney or a specific power of attorney, or whether you wish to grant power of attorney in your case to more than one person.

A general power of attorney means that it can have a standard text and that the person having power of attorney can act on your behalf in several matters. This form of power of attorney may involve various problems as the actual extent of the power of attorney may be uncertain. Therefore you must be very much aware of the wording and also when you want the power of attorney to take effect.

A specific power of attorney is meant for a specific case and is typically time-limited in relation to the processing of the case.

Normally, power of attorney is only given to one person, but you are allowed to grant power of attorney to one person and at the same time grant consent to another to certain case processing steps. There are certain factors you need to note, however. For instance such case processing steps must not be steps that can only be made by the person having the actual power of attorney.

Annulment of power of attorney:

You may withdraw a power of attorney anytime. This you can do by completing the form below and sending it to us. The person having power of attorney will then be removed from the case and you will receive all correspondence regarding the case. You may also, of course, opt to grant power of attorney to a different person.

Power of attorney for one-time access to documents:

This type of power of attorney is used in cases where you only want to give another person a power of attorney to one-time access to documents. Such a power of attorney you also have to send to Labour Market Insurance (Arbejdsmarkedets Erhvervssikring).
